Bug Tracker

📄 by ZachBacon » Fri Aug 05, 2016 7:45 pm

I'm sure all of you have noticed a new link in the portal related to a bug tracker.

Â

Well the news is this. I've installed a new infrastructure for bug tracking, to access it go to https://github.com/visualboyadvance-m/v ... e-m/issues>
https://github.com/visualboyadvance-m/v ... e-m/issues login details at the moment uses github, but I may include other authentication options if the need arises. I'll also will try and properly prioritize things in a better way. In all honesty sourceforge is shit and this new infrastructure will help in not only bringing better organization but also help attract new blood to the project. Already since the move to github we have had various contributions to the project and definitely excited to see stuff flourish.

Â

So if you have any active bugs in sourceforge project site. Please help in moving them to https://github.com/visualboyadvance-m/v ... e-m/issues and help us get better organized.

An Arch linux issue:

Â

vbam-gtk cannot start after sfml pkg update.

Â

And the vbam packages have been flagged out of date [img]
